Intellectual Property Rights Cell ( I P R Cell )

The term "intellectual property" (IPR) covers a wide range of unique forms of mental works, including inventions, literary and artistic productions, as well as symbols, names, images, and designs that are employed in the marketplace. The corresponding legal domains recognise a number of exclusive rights, including copyrights, trademarks, patents, industrial design rights, and trade secrets.

IPR is protected by law, such as patents, copyrights, and trademarks, allowing people to profit financially or gain notoriety from their inventions and creations. The IPR system attempts to create an environment where creativity and innovation can flourish by finding the correct balance between the interests of innovators and the larger public interest.

Objectives:

- To create an awareness about IPR for faculties and students.
- To impart training on future endeavors regarding patent filing processes.
- To conduct workshops, seminars and training course on IPR.
- To create an opportunity for Product development and Commercialization.
